G'day everyone,
I'm Charlotte
from Australia

the world

•Australia is both a country and a continent!

•The capital city is Canberra, not Sydney.

•People mainly speak English, but many Indigenous languages are spoken too.

•About 25 million people live in Australia.

AUSTRALIA

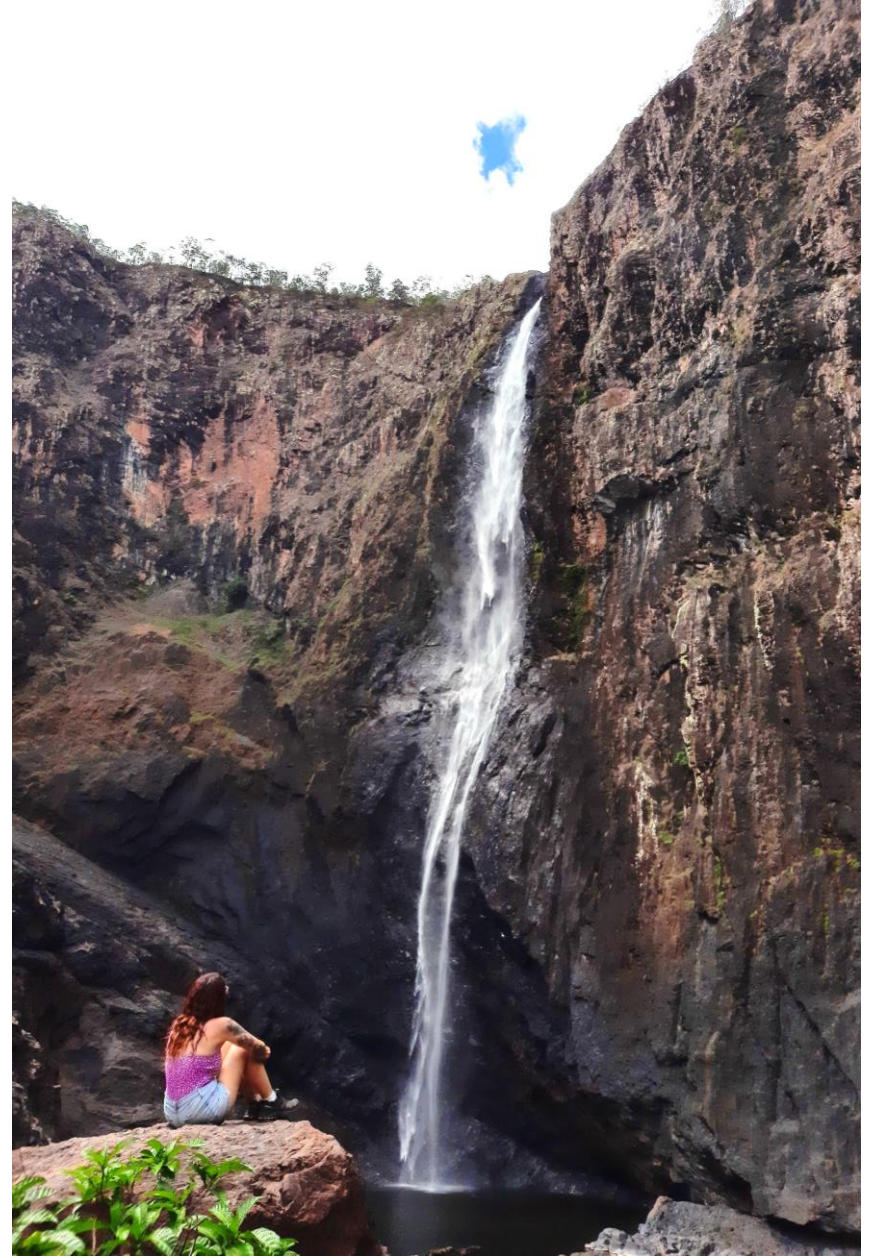

AUSTRALIAN INDIGENOUS PEOPLE

- Aboriginal Australians are the first people of Australia with the oldest living culture in the world - over 65,000 years old.
- Torres Strait Islanders come from the islands between Australia and Papua New Guinea have a special connection to the sea and vibrant traditions celebrating marine life.
- There are over 250 different Indigenous groups. Each group has its own languages, songs, art and special ways of life.
- They believe everything in nature is connected and take care of the land like true guardians.
