

Alike. Worksheet.

1. Look at these examples and see if you understand the meaning of “alike”
  - a) I’m like my brother. I’m similar to my brother in many things= My brother and I are alike
  - b) My daughter and I are really alike; we’re both quite shy and introverted.

Now write a sentence about yourself and a member of your family using “alike”. How would you translate it?

2. You are going to watch a short film in which you see a father and his son. Notice how their lives are alike.

Now answer these questions:

- a) In your opinion, what problem does the film illustrate?
- b) How is colour used in the film? What do you think the colours represent?
- c) How does the film make you feel?
- d) What’s the film’s message?
