

*Women Who Made
History By Going Through Men:*

Rena Kanokogi

July 30, 1935-November 21, 2009

01

Introduction

Who is Rena Kanokogi

Who is Rena Kanokogi

- Full name: Rena Kanokogi Glickman
- Jewish-American judo expert
- Brooklyn, New York, place of birth
- Date of birth: July 30 1935

02

Why and when everything started

Why and when everything started

-1950s: Started using her brother's weights for weight training.

1955: She became interested in Judo, because of a friend and since that moment she started to learn Judo.

03

Her life in Judo

Her Life In Judo

- 1959: She competed at the YMCA, she won.
- 1962: She travelled to Tokyo, Japan to pursue her dream of becoming a Judoka.
- In Tokyo she met her future husband whom she adopted the surname Kanokogi.
- 1965: She directed the first Junior judo tournament.
- 1980, she organized the first women's judo world championship.

04

Conclusion

Conclusion

In conclusion, as we can see Kanokogi is an example of a woman that made history, an excellent woman who fought for what she wanted. I would like to say that I'm very happy that I chose Rena because she was a fighter, she fought for what she wanted until she got it and that is an awesome thing. I'm very proud and grateful for what she did.

Thanks for your attention