You can go from Beijing to London by aeroplane in 11 hours or by train in nine days. Megan Lewis is making the trip in four years because she is travelling on a horse.

While she was growing up, Megan dreamed of long journeys on horses. But as an adult, she got married, had children and worked as a teacher. There wasn't any time for horse trips! Years passed and Megan's children moved to their own homes. Finally, Megan had time for her dream.

Megan and a small group of riders prepared for the 8,000-kilometre journey carefully. They started at Laolongtou – the beginning of the Great Wall of China at the Pacific Ocean. There weren't any good maps or travel guides of the narrow roads and small villages, so it wasn't easy finding their way. They saw many people on motorbikes, scooters and cars while they were riding in Chinese towns. Luckily for Megan, the horses weren't frightened of the noisy cars.

Megan has still got a long way to go to London, but she loves every day of the trip and is happy to be living her dream.
