Mill district

Church of Santiago

Monforte de Lemos

Monforte de Lemos has a great history since geographically it was the crossroads of 3 cities, Lugo, Ourense and Ponferrada.

Its heritage is entirely from the Middle Ages, when the kingdom of Galicia existed

Tower of tribute

Monastery of San Vicente del Pino

Roman bridge

Ribeira Sacra

Ribeira Sacra could be defined as one of the best kept secrets of inland Galicia.

In the Ribeira Sacra you cannot miss the Sil canyons taking a boat ride, an area rich in vineyards and spectacular views, all of them bathed by the Sil river.

Os Ancares

The Sierra de Os Ancares is one of the natural wonders of Galicia. Castros, Roman mines, beautiful pallozas, churches and medieval castles adorn the surroundings.

Os Ancares is a place of incalculable ecological, ethnographic and historical value.

Hórreo

Pedrafita do Cebreiro

Old Houses

Peak of the three bishops

Beach of the Cathedrals

The Cantabrian Sea has worked for millions of years to leave us a masterpiece. The beach of the Cathedrals receives this name since we can see large arches and vaults up to 30 meters high.

A jewel of nature that in recent years has been a mandatory stop if you pass through the coast of Lugo

River work...

In Lugo, a place where it rains a lot, the river puts on real shows, it burrows into the rock making valleys or in the form of waterfalls.

The best time to see the waterfalls is in spring and autumn

Fervenza Waterfall

To spend hours walking

Lugo is a place of great movement of people where different nationalities mix but almost all with a common objective to do El Camino de Santiago, a path that can be done by different routes but with the objective of all of them reaching Santiago, a place where are the remains of the Apostle Santiago

Our gastronomy

Galicia is both cultural and gastronomic land.

Lugo is not far behind, a land where eating well is mandatory, a famous sign says "And to eat Lugo" Since the people of Lugo are people who like to eat well
